INTERSTATE BOUND- ARY QUESTION

Islands in Sabine River are Bone of Contention Between Texas and Louisiana.

Special to the Eagle.

New Orleans, La., May 19.—Louisianan state officials today completed arrangements to battle with the State of Texas for possession of certain islands in the Sabine river, near Orange. The Texas News Service correspondent is informed that the governor and attorney general of Louisiana last night finished the details of the evidence which will be presented to the federal land office at Washington, and a big suit will probably follow.

Louisiana's claim is based on records of surveyors of the United States and of Texas who surveyed the lands in question before Texas joined the Union. Louisiana asserts that the boundary was fixed along the channel of the Sabine river and that the islands in dispute are on the Louisiana side.

This is done with a view of killing the income tax altogether. Aldrich has become alarmed by the strength shown by the new combination.
